NAEMT Pre- Hospital Trauma Life Support Course 5/6 December 2026.

Cost: £395.00

Venue: Plas Y Brenin, Capel Curig, Snowdonia.

Time: Arrive at 08.30 for an 08.45 start on day 1. Day 2 will start at 08.30. Official course end time each day is 18.00. Faculty will discuss with delegates at the start as to when/if they want to do the optional sessions (e.g. altitude and cold).

Lunch and Coffee* breaks to take place at natural breaks during the course with lunch around 12.30 for 45 minutes – an hour (depending on student collective preferences).

Coffee and Tea are provided. Delegates are responsible for providing their own lunches. There is a kettle, microwave, fridge and freezer at the training venue.

Accommodation and food are not included in the cost but is available on site at Plas y Brenin at reasonable cost for bed and breakfast with a single room. This is our very strong recommendation for course continuity. This can be booked by you with Plas y Brenin direct. We have no involvement in accommodation bookings and your accommodation contract would be with Plas y Brenin.

PHTLS is developed by NAEMT in cooperation with the American College of Surgeons' Committee on Trauma. The Committee provides the medical direction and content oversight for the PHTLS program.

PHTLS courses improve the quality of trauma care and decrease mortality. The program is based on a philosophy stressing the treatment of the multi-system trauma patient as a unique entity with specific needs. PHTLS promotes critical thinking as the foundation for providing quality care. It is based on the belief that, given a good fund of knowledge and key principles, EMS practitioners are capable of making reasoned decisions regarding patient care. The course utilizes the internationally recognized PHTLS textbook and covers the following topics:

Physiology of life and death
Scene assessment
Patient assessment
Airway
Breathing, ventilation and oxygenation
Circulation, hemorrhage and shock
Patients with disabilities
Patient simulations

The (very comprehensive) manual also covers Remote Area and Wilderness specific content including Environmental Trauma: heat and cold injuries, altitude as well as snake bites and other remote area related problems. As you would expect from Remote Area Risk International, we deliver the course with Remote Areas in mind and, so, many of our scenarios are based outdoors at the training venue: Plas y Brenin, The National Outdoor Centre, Capel Curig, North Wales. Training takes place at a private, perfectly located, purpose converted training venue, used exclusively by us for medical training, set apart from the main PyB site, further up the side of the mountain, with direct access on to the mountains, into the forest...and into the lake.

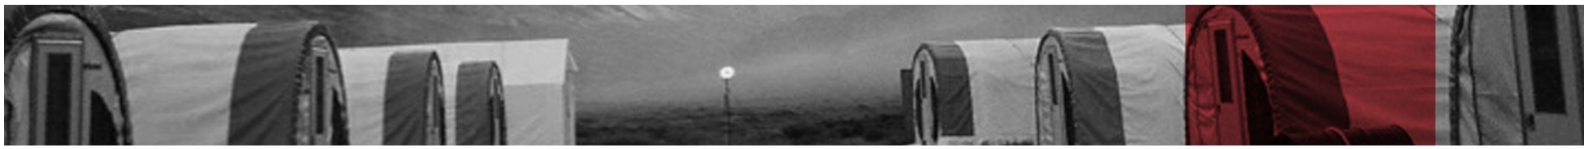

There is parking on site.

Accommodation is available on site at the venue, with bed and breakfast options. The training site has full kitchen facilities and showers. There are alternative (very close) accommodation options a very short distance away - or camping for those that prefer that option. There are local food options and facilities. Meals are not provided as there are excellent options nearby - or delegates can utilise the kitchens to prepare their own food. We aim to cater for all budgets.

Tea, Coffee and biscuits are provided.

We utilise the latest, quality equipment. The course syllabus covers the core PHTLS content.

We also have optional lectures at awareness level on subjects such as altitude (including hands on practice with a Portable Altitude Chamber and heat or cold).

An excellent Faculty, Venue and Equipment.

This year, to keep costs down for delegates, we are requiring delegates to order their own copy of the manual. This is the UK edition of the 10th Edition PHTLS manual and can be ordered with a discount code from the UK publisher. Please ensure it is not the Trauma First Responder version. Please order your manual as soon as we have sent you an invoice. You should start studying approxmately 4 weeks before the course. You need to study the manual thoroughly to pass the course.

A wipe clean incident aide memoire will be given to all attendees to keep.

PHTLS is the global gold standard in prehospital trauma education and is taught in 64 countries. PHTLS is appropriate for EMTs, Paramedics, Nurses, Doctors, and other prehospital providers, including Expedition Medics. We also allow those who have undertaken our specific delivery of the Remote Medical Responder: A Wilderness First responder course (TM), First Responders at First Response Emergency Care Level 4 and above to attend the course. PHTLS is accredited by CAPCE and recognized by NREMT.

The qualification is valid for 4 years.

What to bring with you: Lunch, Yourself, a notepad and several pens/pencils, a sense of humour and an enquiring mind! No recording devices permitted. Chatham House Rules apply throughout the course and afterwards to allow students and the tutor to raise questions, issues and interact in a forum where comments will not be attributed to them afterwards.

Dress: Outdoor kit that you would wear to operate in a remote area. Be aware that there will be fake blood and moulage used so please bring clothes that you don't mind getting fake blood on. The weather in Snowdonia can be wet and cold - so full waterproofs and warm clothing including hats and gloves. Walking boots/sensible footwear for operating on uneven terrain, head torch, spare head torch, spare batteries, a flask, plastic mug, wash kit, personal meds, evening clothes, towel, day pack. Please bring a climbing helmet if you have one.

Overview:

Ratios: We generally work on a ratio of one instructor to a maximum of six students.

Remote Area Risk International is an approved Centre for delivery of the 2 day NAEMT Pre-Hospital Trauma Life Support Course and the one day Trauma First Responder Course. As with everything that we do, we deliver the 2 day course with a Remote Area and Wilderness emphasis - making this course perfect for those wanting to undertake PHTLS for use in their roles related to Search and Rescue teams, Expeditions, Oil and Gas Sector, Extractives Sectors, TV and film safety cover and more.

The strength of a course is its Faculty - all hand- picked and known to our Director and our PHTLS Course Co ordinator. Our team are all Remote Area specialists. By that, we do not mean that they have medical qualifications and have been on a couple of expeditions in the past - we mean that they have medical qualifications AND regularly operate (providing medical cover) in remote areas for extended periods. Faculty members work in the extractives industries in remote areas overseas, as Off Shore Medical Rescue team leads, as Expedition Medics and providing medical and safety support for Television programmes. They have remote area medical expertise, military and Search and Rescue Experience. The Faculty have experience in multiple Jungles, Deserts, Mountainous regions, Arctic Circle and more.

The 2 day course:

NAEMT's Prehospital Trauma Life Support (PHTLS) is recognised around the world as the leading continuing education program for prehospital emergency trauma care.
